This week

Lion P Ross OLNEY did it again. He thoughtfully provided Lion IVP Will BERG with two months of programs to get his year started.

Only, of course, not one single scheduled speaker has made it yet. Today is no exception. Lion Ross said Patty Longo was scheduled to speak. When Lion Will called to confirm, Patty said: "I haven't spoken to Ross in a decade."

However, we are in luck. Our Special Guest today is Carl Dingler, a Harbor Pilot for 20 years at Port Hueneme. Before that he was a pilot at the Panama Canal. Beats the heck out of listening to Patty Longo talk about aging.

Next week

Right now it is open. It may be one of the no-shows from last month.

Last week

It was an unscheduled open meeting.

Ramblings from Ross

Not only can't Lion Ross book speakers, he can't remember to write something for the Bulletin each week.

Winners

Lion Carlos MARTINEZ has free fines today, so we can't fine him if he dips his tie in our soup while pouring coffee. Lion D Otto SCHIMMEL demonstrated that he is one of the luckiest guys on the planet. He has won more often in the few months he's been a Noontimer than Lion Carl DAME did in 40 years. Lion Otto had his number come up for the Attendance Prize. If he shows up today he'll be $30 richer. In the Mad Marble Marlarkey, someone (your BE was too busy writing down the Treasurer crap to keep track) lost his chance to pocket $184.

Gone Fishing

Mark your calendars: August 20, starting at 6 AM and running to 4 or 5 in the afternoon, Noontimers will be fishing on the fabulous Speed Twin.

The Speed Twin has a full galley, so you can get all the food and drink you care for. Cost for the boat will be $30-40 depending on the number who attend. A fishing license is $7, pole rental is $10 and tackle is $5, so it should be an affordable trip.

Be sure to invite friends, co-workers, kids and anyone else you can think of. The more people, the lower the cost per person. Contact Lion D Todd REHANEK for more information.

What's happening?

This should be one of the busiest seasons for Lions. We should have news on the Family BBQ, Cancer Walk, White Cane Daze, Election Precinct work and even something on the Christmas Party. Presumably, someone is working on all these.

But we are short of reports at club meetings and there is nothing for the BE to write about. If you are working on one of these committees, please consider a short email to your BE so he can bring everyone up to date.

And, of course, we could all be brought up to date if our president (1) talked to the committee chairmen and (2) bothered to bring us up to date in his weakly column.
