This week

With any luck, it is still open.

Next week

According to Lion 1VP Dennis AMICK, next week's program is, "Jessica Arciniega, Housing Farm Workers." Is Housing Farm Workers a company, a generic title, a government program??? What will Jessica be speaking about? Housing? Farms? Workers?

Time will tell.

Last week

Police Chief Art Lopez decided to remind himself why he is retiring — so he doesn't have to deal with groups like the Noontimers. So he suffered our abuse for one last time and discussed progress with Gang Injunctions and crime in general. After the meeting he even tried to flatter us by saying that he might join us after he retires. Wonder what he wants from us?

Whispers from Will

No whispers. No shouts. No nuthin'. He didn't even return phone calls.

Winners

Lion Chuck CONWAY has Free Fines (are only new Noontimers winning things any more?) while Lion Irv TUCKER is our Greeter. If Lion David MIGOCKI is here today, he will collect the $30 Attendance Prize. In the Mad Marble Malarkey, a huge injustice occurred. Lion BE/T Toby SCOTT had the winning ticket but drew the wrong marble and lost his chance at $396.50.

Save the date

At the Bored meeting Wednesday, your inebriated leaders decided to celebrate Valentine's Day late by inviting women to our meeting. Specifically, invite your wife, girl friend (but not both), platonic friend, secretary or whomever to lunch at the Noontimers on February 18. Assuming someone on the Bored follows up on this event, we should have some treats and surprises for the women. But, of course, "planning" and "Noontimer" should never be used in the same sentence.

With sorrow

Lion Steve SABEDRA's father, Ben, passed away on January 18. Ben was 92 and was survived by his wife, Ramona and his children David, Jeannie, Robert, Martha as well as our own Lion Steve.

All Noontimers send their deepest condolences to the Sabedra family
