This week

Our Special Guest today is Jim Naylor, manager of the Ventura Raceway, and also the track announcer. Lion D Ross OLNEY has known Jim for a bunch or years, but try not to hold that against him.

Next week

Mike McManus, Veteran Services Officer with the County of Ventura will be here to talk about veteran services.

Last Week

Pablo Ortiz decided he had lived long enough without finding out about one of the universes darkest secrets and visited the Noontimers. Pablo works with Gold Coast Broadcasting, is chair of the Salsa Festival and is constantly working on projects to improve Oxnard, particularly downtown. He was humorous, informative and infectious.

Winners

Lion P George THOMPSON has Free Fines, which is pretty worthless in Thailand. At least it won't cost the club real money. Somewhat new Lion Sal GONZALEZ is our Greeter. As he has rejoined the club after a long hiatus, he probably needs to introduce himself to several newer members. Lion MC Bill

GREEN was here when his name was called for the Attendance Prize, so if he makes it to today's meeting, he'll be $25 richer. Probably won't pay for 10 minutes of gas in his boat. Lion Otto SCHIMMEL was lucky enough to have his ticket drawn in the Mad Marble Malarkey, but was unlucky in drawing marbles and missed $$628.

Candidates for Next Year's Officers

As there have been no nominations from the floor, here is the same slate of officers as last week. Nominations are welcome from the floor.
