This week

Our Special Guest today is Gregg Barnes from the City of Oxnard who will be here to discuss Handicapped sports.

He's asked before, but does anyone have an idea for him? Can we all pitch in? Please.

Last week

Patrick Mullin, recently of the Courtyard by Marriott, but now from the Strawberry Festival dropped by to discuss the Festival. Since he's been on the job for a week, it was a bit short on details. But Patrick is so entertaining that it didn't matter. Excellent program, lots of fun, lots of laughs and informative.

Berg's Beg-gings

Come on, Lion Will. Start sending the BE something for these pages. Do we have anything to report? Do we have anything planned? Maybe after the Bored meeting in two weeks.

Next week

Nothing scheduled yet. Lion IVP Dave TAPIE is hard at work, and has a program for February 6. But he has been unsuccessful for getting one next week.

Winners

One of the most amazing events in the history of the Noontimers happened last week: Lion Barry BRAFF won the $10 Attendance Prize. For this to happen, he had to attend two weeks in a row and have his name called on the first visit. The probabilities of those three events synchronizing is so close to zero that Funk & Wagnalls use it for the definition. Lion C Andy STAY had his name called for the $5 Attendance Prize, but he wasn't here. Today we draw for $10. Wonder if Lion Barry will win?

Lion S Ev BATEY has Free Fines, while Lion D Mike PLISKY is our Greeter. In the Mad Marble Malarkey, Lion D Mike PLISKY took aim $222.50. In the immortal words of Lion Carlos MARTINEZ, he was a "LOOOOOOZZZEEERRRR!!!"
